Interesting Topics at The Institute Meeting

Mrs. Latiff entertained the Women's Institute this month and a large number—about twenty four—were in attendance to hear Mrs. Beaumont's brilliant and searching resume of the Legislature in Province and Dominion during the past year. In addition to this Mrs. Basin read a very interesting interview with Miss Thompson about "The Institute in England."

The impending clinics in the school were discussed, but nothing decided on without the Doctor's sanction.

Next month the subject of "Co-operation between parents and teachers" will be dealt with by our two new High School teachers at the home of the chairman of Education and Better Schools, Mrs. R. I. Baker.

The public know that guests to our meetings are always welcomed. For the October meeting Mrs. Baker specially invites the parents of High School students.

And for the lighter minded we are going to have a Halloween dance, most likely a masquerade.

Mrs. Latiff and Mrs. Baker served a delicious lunch, assisted by Mrs. Walker, and only one guest had a bad fortune in her tea cup.

Bazaar is Discussed

The Ladies' Aid regular meeting of August was held at the home of Mrs. James Walker with Mesdames Bond, Peterson and Ashmore as hostesses.

The annual bazaar was voted for with the following committees: Mrs. McLeod, sponsor; Mrs. U. G. Anderson, candy; Mrs. Walker, produce; Mrs. McIntyre and Mrs. Claver, tea; fancy work which is to be a miscellaneous table with Mesdames Norman Patterson, Fisher, Harker and Stephenson.

The ladies will also hold a tea, foregoing supper, date and particulars announced later. Bills for decorating the church was voted to be paid. Meeting adjourned with thanks to Mrs. McLeod to have the next meeting at her home.

Former Resident Dies

Mrs. Joseph Lee, wife of Rev. Mr. Lee, former minister at Champion and Barons passed away last week in Edmonton. Mr. Lee is now United Church incumbent at Bruneau. Mrs. Lee had several brothers at Glenora. Besides her husband, a son, Bryan, survives.

Paint Prices Sharply Reduced

A sharp reduction in the price of first quality home paint at $1.35 per gallon is announced by the manufacturers of some of Canada's best known brands of paint, the reduction to take effect immediately.

In making the announcement, the companies concerned state that the reduction is not justified by any change in market conditions or manufacturing costs. They point out, however, that during the past few years many house-holders have been misled by "cheap" prices into using inferior paint with results that resulted unfavorably on the whole industry. Great action was felt to be necessary to check a situation that seriously threatened property values all over the country.

The new low price is designed to make it easier for property owners to use first quality paint only, with result in benefit to the property and to the community in general.

The companies announcing the reduction are Canada Paint, International Varnish, Martin-Senour and Sherwin-Williams.

Shower for Bride-elect

Mrs. Doris, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reher was the guest of honour at a shower given by Mrs. George Aleck on Tuesday, 10th September, when thirty guests were present, the table was most tastefully decorated in mauve and white, the centrepiece being a miniature bride with bouquet corresponding with the color scheme. The bride was the recipient of many very useful and pretty presents. Mrs. Williamson made a suitable speech in asking the bride's acceptance with the heartiest of sincere wishes, to which the bride-to-be feelingly replied, a sumptuous lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Steve Fath and Mrs. Bach.

Former Resident Hurt

Harry Strauss, of Irma, Alta was painfully injured while breaking land with a tractor. A bolt under the machine became loose and throwing the machine out of gear, he got down under it to make the repair, and the tightening of the bolt apparently engaged the clutch, and the tractor moved forward four feet, passing over Harry's abdomen, fracturing the left pelvis in two places. He was removed to the Wainwright hospital, where the injury was x-rayed and later taken to the University Hospital at Edmonton, where he is now doing very nicely.

Mr. Strauss was well known in the Champion district, having worked for J. D. Hagerman for several years.

Field Meet in Spring

The Aldersdy Branch Athlete's Association held a meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. Baker, Valen and Carmangy was represented at the meeting with none from Barons. It was decided to hold the school track meet in the spring rather than in the fall.

Dr. Wilson left Saturday for Bassano; he has been helping Dr. Proctor here during the last three months.

LIBERTY'S CANADIAN HALL OF FAME No. 10

Refusing a baronetcy because the sword might tangle in his legs when he is shovelling snow off the sidewalk, John Wesley Duffie is a crusading editor with a penchant for creating statements, destroying politicians and elevating patriots to office.

A Tory by birth, he became a liberal by absorption and a radical in spite of himself. Began his career with a carpenter, distiller, gulished himself by reviving an ancient letter of Father Lacombe which changed Manitoba's political complexion. He marched with Borden during the world war and returned to thrive on the same category as the He thinks the Declaration of London and the Statue of Westminster coupled with Magna Charta and the Declaration of Independence.

Puts the Crownment Press Agreement in the same category as the treaty of Versailles. Has written two thousand editorials in an attempt to clinch his point. Uses a pen to write even at the expense of lowering opponents' and pro-readers' wrath.

His word is gospel to many even though he has never consciously sought to mould Public Opinion.

A bit bawdy, a spot bawdy, Editor Duffie likes reading, poetry, politics. His favorite literature is listed as "The Independent Wave" and "The Editor's Guide" by himself.

He is a man of many talents and a man of many interests. He is a man of many talents and a man of many interests. He is a man of many talents and a man of many interests.

Democracy And Liberty

Liberty, says Mr. Stanley Baldwin, is rooted in the English character and fostered and maintained by institutions which also have grown out of that character. That liberty is embodied in the parliamentary system which is the result of the obstinate determination of the English people to manage, individually and nationally, their own affairs. Mr. Baldwin says that system has grown out of the common sense and good nature of the people, who prefer elections to street fighting, and talking shop to revolutionary tribunals. The English, above all other peoples, have made a success of democracy and that success has been planted in the Overseas Dominion. The reason for this is adduced by The London Times as being a refusal to "wear our fetters in our souls." That freedom is the breath of democracy which protects the people from domination by one side or the other through the expression of opinion in the ballot box. It is, as The Times says, "the translation into action of our instinctive determination to resist any form of tyranny that has from time to time pressed us."

Mr. Baldwin reiterates that the price of liberty is eternal vigilance, and the more so in a democracy which is the most difficult form of government, and, therefore, the most worthy of giving our lives to make it a success. Thus Great Britain has the motto that it is not enough to sit with folded arms and believe that she has the greatest Government in the world. Tyranny takes many forms. It is constantly raising its head. One way of propaganda it has devised is to constantly beset democracy with failure. According to Mr. Baldwin, it is the form of government which has won more triumphs than any other, and, therefore, should be cherished and cultivated as in times past. Self-government, which is democracy, has maintained in developing forms in England for eight centuries. No one is going to be able to tear it from its roots, which are laid in the English character.

When we review the history of this North American continent, we find that the struggle for liberty and self-government is written large over its pages. The Pilgrim Fathers left the old world in order that they might enjoy religious liberty denied to them at home. The American Civil War was a life and death struggle for liberty. One long fight followed another in pre-Confederation days to win liberty and the rights of responsible government in Canada.

In the earlier days of the world's history, liberty could only be gradually won through bloodshed and death on the battlefield. Today it can only be retained and expanded through democratic forms of government, and by stern resistance to all movements, however subtle and apparently innocent, which tend to restrict the liberties of the people, and of individuals who in the aggregate are the people and the State.

Why have the peoples of Great Britain, United States and Canada laid such stress on individual liberty, and been willing to sacrifice all else in order to achieve it? The answer is, of course, that liberty is the greatest thing in life, and without it life is not worth the living. A slave may enjoy health and security, but lacking his God-given right of liberty he is denied that which is supremely greater, contentment and happiness.

It is not to be forgotten, too, that it is only in those countries where full and free democratic forms of government exist that liberty remains the priceless possession of the people. Yet we find in certain countries, where the people became lax in defence of their liberties, those very democratic forms were first utilized by would-be dictators to lead deprive them of their liberties. And all over North America today there are organized groups, employing the very liberty which democracy has conferred upon them, to overthrow and destroy democracy.

It is necessary, therefore, for all people who prize liberty to be on their guard and resist every attempt, however veiled it may be, which is designed to restrict the liberty of themselves or others in even the smallest degree. Liberty once lost may be extremely hard to win back again.

Paying Their Way

Dionne Babies Contribute Indirectly To Revenue For Ontario

If the five little Dionne girls knew anything about such things as tourist traffic, game taxes and the revenues of trade, they might even themselves on their contributions to business and to the treasury of Ontario out of all proportions to what is expected of mere babes.

It has been estimated that the thousands of visitors to Callender are paying approximately $12,000 a month in gasoline taxes to the province. The crowds who see the Dionne quintuplets average one thousand a day. Tourist traffic into the North Bay district has increased nearly forty per cent, creating an evident prosperity that reaches out to hotels, other purveyors and tradesmen of all kinds.

The five little girls are more than paying their way, and are returning to the province substantial dividends on the sympathy and public assistance that was so generously and promptly rendered to them in the first precarious months of their young lives.

They are also supporting twenty babies, according to the figures from Callender—their parents, three nurses, two maids for their mother, two hired men for their father, a cook, two orderlies, two special constables, three men to direct traffic, two hospital maids and Dr. Dufresne.

To their famous physician they doubtless owe more than they can ever repay, but to everyone else they occupy a charming and cheerful position. They are a personal and financial asset to Ontario. Thousands of men and families are avoidably on relief, drawing funds from the strained provincial treasury to which five year-old babies are indirectly credited with contributing such appreciable sums as $12,000 in gasoline taxes alone.

The contrast presents just another anomaly of life.—Peterborough Examiner.

Products Should Be Shown

Only Way to Interest China in Canadian Products

China, and particularly Southern China, offers a huge and comparatively untapped field of opportunity to Canadian industry. Mrs. Beatrice Thompson, director of the advertising and publicity bureau of Hong Kong, India, and Malaya, declared at Montreal. She is visiting Canada's larger centres in connection with the proposed British Empire and China trade fair planned for December, 1936, at Hong Kong.

She said foodstuffs in particular were in demand. She estimated the potential consumption of imported butter at 13,000 tons annually, with proportionate opportunities for the sale of tinned milk and other foods.

"There is only one way to interest the Chinese in your exports," Mrs. Thompson said. "Let them see your products for themselves. Merely to follow plans tried elsewhere and send out a commissionaire to sell and lack of results that have been experienced in the past by other parts of the empire."

Deserves A Monument

Taxpayer Carries Burden Of World On His Shoulders

Someone should start a movement to build a monument to the average taxpayer. He is the man who keeps the home fire burning and makes the wheels of government go around. He has gotten himself into the position of a taxpayer by thrift, by spending less than he makes, by investing in the home town, by building a home first and owning a roof over his head. To do it he has sacrificed himself pleasures and luxuries that the spendthrift had in plenty. In every community he may be abused and referred to slightly on many occasions, but in good years and bad years he is the backbone of the country, and without him there would be no government and no relief. He carries the burden that others shirk, many times without complaint, which he would often be justified in voicing. He is deserving a monument—a tall enduring monument—for he, like Atlas of old, bears the world upon his shoulders.—Cranbrook, B. C., Courier.

From January to June, 1935, Canada exported 6,103,449 pounds of leaf tobacco, 5,792,961 pounds of which went to the United Kingdom; 238,460 pounds to British West Africa; 52,895 pounds to British West Indies; 11,680 pounds to Belgium, and 7,513 pounds to other foreign countries.

Exhibit From Britain

Port of London Authority Had Space At Toronto Exhibition

The Port of London Authority took space at the 37th Canadian National exhibition which opened at Toronto on August 23 and staged an exhibit representing the facilities provided in the Port of London to serve the great London market. The international character of London's commerce was emphasized by large-scale dramas and mechanical devices illustrating the continuous flow of shipping in and out of the port.

The port authority have provided special facilities for dealing with Canadian trade, particularly at the survey commercial docks, and the trade has shown a marked increase during the last year or two. In a brochure specially prepared for the exhibition it is stated that "Canada wants to send more of her products and manufactures to Great Britain; yet many Canadians do not at present realize that London is Great Britain's premier port and serves Great Britain's greatest market. London provides the wealth and largest market for Canadian trade; the Port of London is the natural obvious gateway to that market."

Will Try Bortol System

New Method Of Training For Youth In Penitentiaries

A system of training youthful delinquents similar to the Bortol system in the United Kingdom will be inaugurated in one of the penal institutions of Canada, Sept. 1. It was learned at Ottawa, Wednesday, that it is hoped to develop plans embracing the whole Dominion so far as Bortol training is concerned.

"If we are given one year for every 10 years of experimentation in Bortol training carried on by the United Kingdom, we shall be able to evolve a satisfactory system," declared one high government official. "The Bortol system has been in vogue in Great Britain for 40 years; the new methods are continuing to emerge."

In Canadian penitentiaries there were 221 young offenders below the ages of 16 and 21. It is with a proportion of these that the training system will start.

Better Awards

Manitoba Captures Honors At Canadian National Exhibition

Manitoba creameries captured premier honors in the Canadian National Exhibition creamery butter contest. Final results of which are announced here.

First prizes secured by the provinces were: Manitoba 42, Alberta 17, Ontario 49, British Columbia 26, Saskatchewan one.

The Winkler Creamery, Winkler, Man., was awarded the silver cup for the highest scoring exhibitor at the exhibition. Silver medal winners for highest scoring sample of butter in each section included Central Alberta Dairy Pool, Alx, Alta.

Regained Health By Exercise

Five years ago doctors told William Campbell of Vancouver he had only six months to live. He took physical culture lessons, won his battle with death and now is making a handsome living for himself and his family. During one month he saved four persons from drowning in Vancouver waters.

SYNOPSIS

Nancy Nelson is a sub-deb, a gay, irresponsible girl of nineteen, with no care beyond the chase of her costume for her coming-out party. Suddenly in the market crash, her indulgent father loses all he has, and his family is faced with the necessity of a simpler method of living. At this juncture a letter is received from an eccentric relative in Colorado, who offers the girl a home on what seems to be impossible conditions. After much consideration Cousin Columbine's offer is accepted, and Nancy and Jack arrive at Pine Ridge. Nancy set out one afternoon to climb to the top of a hill so as to obtain a view of the surrounding landscape and miss the path Adams. Tubbs had told her to follow. A truck comes along the road, driven by Matthew Adams, and she asks him which way to go. They ascend the hill, look around, and then go on to Cousin Columbine's. There Mark Adam tells Nancy that his brother Luke has broken his leg, and that Jack Nelson has been hired to help out while Luke's leg gets better. With Jack away, Nancy finds that she is lonesome, and having no books to read, the idea of starting a public library at Pine Ridge seems a good one, and Nancy writes home to get her parents to send all the books they could spare and all they could induce others to let them have.

Nancy and Matthew Adam go Christmas shopping in a neighboring town. On their return to Pine Ridge, Nancy is amazed to see the Columbine residence all lit up, and asks Matthew if he knows why. He said: Let's go in and see. Then Nancy learns that she is having her debut, but in a different setting than had been planned for her in Boston. Nancy's parents and friends gave her liberal support to her request for books, and a sizeable box arrived in due course. Father Adam, pointing a sign for the library, and the Adams boys worked on the shelves for the books and decorated to make the room look presentable.

Now Go On With The Story

CHAPTER XVI

March "came in like a lamb," and continued lamb-like for so long that Nancy hung her fur coat at the very back of her closet, and concluded that spring had come. It was in one of these rare days when Aurora, deep in an orgy of housecleaning, ordered the girl emphatically to

"clear out," that Nancy decided to test the woodland trail to the hilltop where she had gone with Matthew three months before, and reaching the summit, dropped breathless at the foot of the old pine.

She had wanted to go out to the Adam ranch that morning, but it was "library day," and Mary Taylor, who would have taken her place behind the desk, was visiting in Pueblo. There was nothing to do but stay at home, and this was the sort of weather that made one long to "go somewhere"—surely too fine a day to remain indoors. So here she was, gazing at that marvelous picture, with Pike's Peak looking only about a mile away; and at her feet a lump of Colorado anemones like those Matt had brought her from the ranch last week. Nancy wished that Aunt Judy, who so loved flowers, was here to see them.

Suddenly it struck the girl as unbelievable that she should be two thousand miles from home, alone on a hilltop under a pine that had (as Matthew Adam pointed out), viewed things that were part of the history of her country. If only this wonderful old tree could talk! Why, it had stood here in silence and watched that Indian and his boy approach the lonely cabin where a small Colorado Columbine was rapturously enjoying her first Christmas tree! Did it tug at its sturdy roots in an effort to send forth a warning? mused Nancy whimsically; and then said aloud:

"But I'd never have had these thoughts if Matt hadn't put them in my head, perhaps. He's a queer boy—Matt Adam—so awfully shy most of the time, and such a riot when he forgets himself. I never saw any one just like him. Mark's bright as a dollar, and one can have perfectly grand times with him; but there are days when I like him better than even more. Somehow Matt makes you want to protect him, he's so sensitive. And in that Tux the night of my—"

Nancy started, blushing as red as ever the approaching Matthew had. He smiled and apologized: "Sorry I scared you. Thought maybe you saw the truck bumping along the road down there. I caught a glimpse of an orange tail and made a guess that you'd be under it. Mother wants you for supper; and Dad has promised to try chickens if you'll come."

"Does the invitation include Cousin Columbine?" asked Nancy as the young man dropped to the ground beside her.

"Of course. You can ride back with Luke when he gets the milk cans this afternoon."

"That's grand," smiled Nancy. "How did your mother know that I was crazy to go out to the ranch today?"

"She didn't. It's a farewell banquet for yours truly. I'm swapping jobs with Mark to-morrow. Uncle Tom needs some one a while longer, and Mark is fit to tie at missing so much of your society. He called Mother up this morning with a pathetic story which she fell for instantly, and proceeded to point out the fact that it was my duty to relieve him. Jack's going to drive me to Prairie Ranch to-morrow, and come home with Mark. I hope to thunder I'll be back in another week!"

"I hope so too," returned Nancy sweetly; "but it's been wonderful for Jack, having this chance of stay with you people. I didn't dream your uncle would be laid up so long."

"Neither did Mark," laughed Matthew, "or it would have required even more persuasion to make him go! But it was Uncle Tom who fixed things so Dad and Mother could marry when they did, and they'd lend him anything from their sons to their last copper. Say, Nancy, have—have you decided when you're going East?"

"I wrote Dad yesterday that I thought we ought to stay till June. There are such a lot of things we want to see, Matt; and goodness knows if we'll ever come again."

"Of course you will! What makes you say a thing like that? Why—why if I thought—"

He didn't finish the sentence; and Nancy said demurely: "It's nice of you to want us to return! And we're going to miss you Adams a whole lot. That's straight, Matt. Yet I can't help wondering if when we once get home again this—well, the whole experience, won't seem almost like a dream. If you knew how I dreaded to come! I was scared out of my wits. You've no idea what an awful coward I am."

"Was, perhaps," Matthew corrected gravely.

Nancy threw him a little smile; then her face sobered.

"I'm not so sure the past tense is correct, Matt. Sometimes I think my courage has never been tested, and wonder how I'd show up in a pinch. It was pride that made me count on coming out here—most is, mostly pride. I wanted to help Dad, of course. We all did. But I'd never have come alone, Matt. I'm no heroine."

"I beg to disagree with you, lady. Jack says you never whimpered at giving up that glorious debut."

The girl raised her head in sheer surprise.

"He did?"

Nancy nodded.

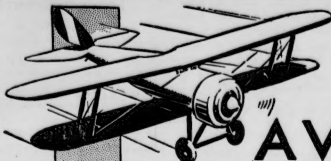

"Your kind brother thinks the world of you, Nancy. Didn't you know it?"

Nancy pondered that.

"I knew Jack was fond of me, of course; but when I hesitated about coming to Colorado he—he called me a pale ornament, and—"

Matt laughed, his eyes shining as his mother's had when Nancy first saw her.

"What's the disgrace in being ornamental so long as you're something else besides? Look at our library, Miss Aladdin! Honestly, Nancy, Dad says he doesn't know any one who's accomplished so much in a short time as you have. And you've practically transformed Juanaita

They Come And Learn

Tourists From United States Finding Out About Canada

The Stratford Beacon-Herald says: The tourist habit is one of the best corrective elements which has made its appearance. When people come and see best here in summer, they know how limited has been their knowledge of this country. They will probably go home and tell other people. We can enjoy a good laugh at the expense of those who come in Summer armed and prepared for the worst, but the truth is the people from United States never knew any better. It is well they are finding out.

In Hawaii, there are football leagues in which the players do not wear shoes. The athletes develop great kicking accuracy and punt 50 yards with ease.

Little Helps For This Week

Be merciful unto me, O God, be merciful to me, for my soul trusteth in Thee: Yes in the shadow of Thy wings will I make my refuge, until these calamities be overpast.—Psalm 57, 1.

My God, in whom are all the springs of boundless love and grace unfolded. Hide me beneath Thy spreading wings.

When the dark cloud is overhead. In time of trouble go not out of yourself to seek for aid, for the whole burden of trial consists in silence, patience, rest, and resignation. In this condition divine strength is found for the hard warfare, because God Himself fights for the soul. In vain will you let your mind run out after help in times of trouble, it is like putting to sea in a storm. Sit still, and feel after your principles, and if you find none that furnish you with somewhat of a stay and rest, then let your mind point you to quietness and silent submission depend upon it you have never learned the truth from the Spirit of Truth.

Ancient Villages Revealed

Three Distinct Sites Have Been Excavated In England

Some of the secrets of medieval Castle, near Dorchester, Britain's best preserved pre-historic monument, recently revealed by excavations made by Dr. R. E. M. Wheeler, were described by him before the Society of Antiquaries at Burlington House, London, the other day. Three distinct sites had been excavated, he said. In the first he had found Neolithic pits filled with pottery of simple design, rebarren, and other weapons. They had also cut into the site of a Neolithic village of about 2000 B.C. For the next fifteen centuries the site was without human occupation, owing to water shortage experienced on nearby alluvial lands of Europe. In the third century the site was without human occupation, owing to water shortage experienced on nearby alluvial lands of Europe. (Whites Slightly Higher)

The Quality Remains Exactly The Same. Only The Price Is Changed.

Dating from to-day, the price of first quality house paints manufactured and sold by the undersigned companies is reduced to $3.95 per gallon.

There has been no change in market conditions or manufacturing costs to justify this step. We feel, however, there is urgent need for action that will make it possible for house-holders to obtain the highest quality paints at the lowest price consistent with strict maintenance of quality.

Thousands of people all over the country have been forced to put off much needed painting. Thousands more have been misled by "bargain" prices into using inferior paint of little or no value. We want to make it easier for you to enjoy the advantages of painting with first quality paint only, and are confident that the generous reduction in price now announced is the best way to accomplish this.
